BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14, 1901.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

The river is falling.

Pigs for sale.—Chas. Martin.

R. E. Moorman went to Louisville yesterday.

Miss Lala (Gregory) has a position with Wm. Vest & Sons.

Charles Killman will move into his new home next week.

Mr. Satterwhite has moved into Kirt Weatherford's new house.

Mr. Henry R. Head and Walker Board were in the city yesterday.

Chris. Sargent has sold his grocery store at Hardy's corner to Richard Day.

W. E. Martin has moved his grocery into the room vacated by R. E. Moorman.

Judge J. S. Wilkinson and his son, Forde Wilkinson, are both at home sick.

Geo. Gietendanner has closed up his tinshop here, and removed to Louisville.

Mrs. C. D. Temple went to Greenville, Miss., last Friday to see her sister, who is reported very sick.

Mr. J. Scott Vance and wife (nee Miss Sessie May) returned home from their bridal trip Monday night.

The News is preparing a handsome list of valuable gifts to be given away to its paid up subscribers Jan. 1, 1901.

Mrs. Conrad Simons, of Tolinport, Ind., delivered to Bower & Hambleton, of this city, 800 pounds of butter last year.

Alto Hittig Jr., has been appointed postmaster at Long Branch, Meade county, and J. E. McQuay at Rock Vale, Breckinridge county.

J. H. Ryther and brother have sold their farm to Mason M. Miller, a prominent farmer of Breckinridge neighborhood, and will give possession March 1st.

The News man will call at Harlanville, next Monday. If you want the News or anything in the way of printing don't be backward about mentioning it to him.

A sack has given notice that he will make application to the city council for a license and howling away to be opened in the West end. Wm. Hall's old lively stable will be the place.

George Dean is holding the depot down nicely and taking in lots of toll here for the railroad. Yesterday was the banner day in the passenger business. He sold twenty tickets for the east bound train.

Read the splendid showing of the Breckinridge Bank in another column. Although there are slinky times in financial circles this credit institution has plenty of funds to meet all demands and money to spare.

City Marshal Jordan went to Louisville Monday, and returned yesterday in a handsome blue suit with velvet collar. He is now fully equipped for business, and the law-breakers had better steer clear of him.

The James (Hottel) passed up late yesterday evening. She had the crew of the City of Owensboro on board, and reported that boat is a very big fix at French Island. She is hard ground and it will require several feet of water to get her off.

Col. Ad. English, of Webster, has moved to this city. He has rented a part of R. B. Hare's residence and will keep a boarding house. Mr. English has the reputation of being one of the best caterers in the county and will no doubt do a good business.

Hon. G. W. Beard and ex-Sheriff D. H. Severs were here Friday, returning from a tour of inspection of the best jails in the State. They are determined to have the latest and best plans, which is highly correct. If the county invests in new buildings, let them be of the best, even if they cost a little more—they will be cheaper in the end.

The potato crop over in Tobin's Bottom, although short, yielded the growers as much money as an average crop. Some of the best crops brought $10.00. Mr. Vine Haulin in Holt's Bottom, we understand, sold his crop for $1,700.

There is very little doing in tobacco in this market. There was one load on the street yesterday, the first that has been brought to town this season. Jimmy Wheeler is in the market and we understand has bought several crops. The gas supply was a little short in some instances during the cold snap, but we heard of no one freezing or going without their breakfast. It will be a mighty cold day when the gas goes out in Cloverport.

Rev. G. W. Dennis writes to have his paper changed to 1125 West Broadway, Louisville, and says: We are in the midst of a glorious revival at our church, assisted by Rev. J. S. Keen. Forty-three conversions to date. Meeting is of two weeks continuance and will go on indefinitely.

Our old friend and fellow countryman, Wm. M. Henley, who has recently moved to Louisville, says, these send the Breckinridge News to No. 38 Bull Bluff. I am not with it. I prefer it to any paper in Kentucky. Am always anxious to read it and hear from my old friends in Breckinridge.

There are now two trains daily on the short line to Victoria. A day will be built at the pier for the accommodation of passengers, and the trains will come and go on time, just like any other class railroad. That's right, Mr. Manager Miller, whoop things up; you are the right man and in the right place. There is no reason why you shouldn't build up a good business and extend your road on to Louisville.

Meers, Cy and John Lillard have had a fine monument made for their mother and brother at the Cloverport Marble Works, of which W. R. Enby is proprietor. The monument is made of the Italian marble, handsomely carved and engraved, and is a very beautiful piece of workmanship. Mr. Enby prides himself on turning out first-class work and this job is in keeping with all of his work. Persons desiring a monument are invited to call and examine for themselves. His prices are reasonable and within the reach of all.

"Don't Care To Eat."

With the greatest confidence that Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended for all ailments, indigestion, sick headache, and similar troubles. This medicine gently tones the stomach, assists digestion, and makes one "really hungry." Persons in delicate health, after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a few days, find themselves longing for and eating the plainest food with unexpected relish.

A New Road.

An effort will be made to cut the court of claims next week to get a road from John's Hill to the place, cutting off the impossible part of the old road from Shufflet's place over Allen's hill to the Tarboro bridge. It is claimed that by bridging the creek at Harlin's hayrack and tapping the pipe near Mr. Samuel Johnson's, an excellent road may be made at very little expense outside the bridge. This is a very important move, not only to the people of this city, but to a large section of country in the Breckinridge neighborhood that is cut off from the river for at least half of the year or more. They either have to boat their produce down the creek during the winter or spring, or hold it until the roads get good in the summer. The court of claims could not do a greater benefit to a large and thrifty section of this county than to make some provision for this road. That people pay their taxes promptly and they should have some return in the way of good roads.

Breaks His Leg.

Dr. S. B. Adkins, while coming down the stairway at the Cloverport Hotel just after supper last night, made a misstep and fell and broke the small bone of his left leg just above the ankle. His ankle was also thrown out of place. It is a very painful wound, and the doctor was suffering terribly. Doctors Owen and Clayton were called in to treat it.

Does Experience Count?

Does, in every line of business, and especially in compounding and preparing medicines. This is illustrated in the great superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla over other preparations, as shown in the remarkable cures it has accomplished. The head of the firm of C. I. Hood & Co., is a thoroughly competent and experienced pharmacist, having devoted his whole life to the study and actual preparation of medicines. He is also a member of the Massachusetts and American Pharmaceutical Associations, and continues actively devoted to advancing the preparation of, and managing the business connected with, Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hence the superiority and peculiar merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is built upon the most substantial foundation. In its preparation there is represented all the knowledge which has been accumulated in medical science has been developed, combined with long experience, brain-work, and experience. It is only a medicine that gives this medicine a fair trial to realize its great curative value.

VINE GROVE.

Knowing that you had no correspondent at this place and thinking you would like to hear from this busy little town, concluded to write. This is a bustling little city, everybody seems to be busy. The town is improving rapidly, at least a dozen houses having been built during the last twelve months, and even during the Christmas holidays, everybody seemed perfectly happy and contented with themselves and everybody else.

Mrs. Bibb, an aged lady, is very ill of heart disease. The Christmas tree at the public hall was a grand success.

Mr. Tom Scott and wife are visiting her father, Mr. Ben Hill.

Miss Ida Mallin is spending the winter with her aunt, Mrs. L. W. Barrett.

Mr. Alfred Ekridge, of the L. S. L. & T., is with his family for a few days.

Mrs. Barnett has lately moved into her beautiful new residence on West Hill.

The family tree at Mrs. Barnett's residence was a beauty and was a source of pleasure to the little folks.

Mr. T. H. Robinson, bridge foreman of the L. S. L. & T. railroad, is spending several days with his mother, Mrs. E. J. Robinson.

Harry Duval left on the 28th to take a position on the L. S. L. & T. Success to you Harry, and be sure you don't lose any hearts with you except your own.

Prof. Philip, principal of the High school at this place, accompanied by Mr. George Hays, one of his pupils, has gone to Indiana to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents. He is a fine teacher and much loved by his pupils, who manifested their esteem by presenting him with a handsome silver case.

The reunion of Mrs. E. J. Robinson's family on Christmas day at the residence of Mr. Alfred Ekridge was an occasion long to be remembered. Relatives and friends gathered round the hearthstone and exchanged greetings, and many happy hours of the long ago were talked of until it seemed that we were almost young again, and we had almost forgotten that there was anything to be sad, when we were reminded that dinner was waiting and into the spacious dining room we went, where we partook of an elegant repast, after which the guests departed but one by one, feeling that the day had been a benediction. May this parent and these children have many such reunions. The members of the family present were: Mrs. E. J. Robinson, Miss Mary Robinson, Mr. S. C. Mallin and wife, Mrs. L. W. Barnett, Mrs. Duval, Mr. Alfred Ekridge and wife and Mr. T. H. Robinson. Also present, Miss Ida Mallin, Miss Zola Mallin, Miss Ella Duval, Hobbie and Frank Mallin, Jessie Howell and Edgar Karkridge, Hobbie and Mary Ella Barnett.

Louisville Market.

We have had a strong tobacco market this week. Offerings have been larger than for some time previous to the holidays. The demand has been strong and active for all classes and grades of Burley, save perhaps light trash. Good red and yellow leaf has been especially wanted and bidding has been lively.

New tobacco was offered a little more liberally and found ready buyers. The best leaf prices, $2.50 being reached by a good Shelby county hoghead. Several sales were made at from $16 to $20. Dark tobacco is offered very sparingly and there still seems little demand for this type.

We will probably arrange for regular quotations of new tobacco in next week's issue.—Farmers Home Journal.

We note the following sales of Breckinridge and Meade county new tobacco during the past week: 2 hids Meade county leaf and lugs at $14.50 and $14.25; 2 hids Breckinridge county leaf, lugs and trash at $13 to $16; 17 hids do. lugs and trash at $13 to $16; 17 hids do. lugs and trash at $13 to $16.
